You were mine bought and paid for long before you ever meet him. And it was these words overheard that started anew the

STANDARD BAROMETER READING.

The following information is published in order that vessels in the Bombay Harbour may by comparison with a standard instrument ascertain the errors of their barometers:—

The reading of the Standard Barometer in the Colaba Observatory corrected for index error and reduced to 80 deg. F. and to the level of the tide at 8-45 a.m. Standard Time, on the 10th May, 1918, was 29.923 inches. For temperature corrections applicable to mercurial barometer of ships the reading of the ship's barometer has to be increased or decreased by .015 inch for every 5 degrees according as the temperature of the attached thermometer is respectively below or above 80 deg. F. In case of the aneroid no temperature correction is needed. But for comparison at 80 deg. F. all aneroid readings should be increased by .138 inch. For correcting the ship's barometer either mercurial or aneroid for the height of the barometer cistern above the tide level in the Great at 8-45 a.m., Standard Time, the ship's barometer reading should be increased by .010 inch for every 10 feet of the height to make it comparable with the Observatory barometer reading given.

A GREAT WORK ON HINDU RELIGION

BHISMA—His Life and Teachings.

Above 400 pages—Cloth Bound Rs. 3 with postage.

1. The name of Mahabharata has long been widely known all over the civilised world. This great Epic has now been translated into almost all civilised languages. Therefore the story of the Mahabharata is known to all and the name of the great Patriarch of the Kurus, BHISMA, is familiar to every one, whether in the East or in the West.

2. His TEACHINGS to his grandsons are unexampled in the world—they are the grandest on the various phases of human duties,—religious, social, political and moral, that were ever told to man, or that were ever found in any other literature.

3. Unfortunately the Mahabharata is not a handy work, but a stupendous mass of literature. Hardly is there one in these busy days who has time or who cares to take the trouble to read this great work from page to page. Therefore the noblest character of Bhisma is not widely known, or so greatly appreciated as it should be. His great teachings, the noblest and the grandest that were ever delivered, lie hidden under the great Mahabharata.

BOMBAY MARKET.

COTTON.

(From our Commercial Correspondent.)

May 10.

Further fluctuations have occurred in the Home markets, but the downward tendency has received a check. Changes have been due to weather and crop reports from America, and similar fluctuations are likely. Early next month the first of the Bureau Reports will be issued giving the average condition of the crop for May. Last year the average condition for May was low (69.5), while the previous year (1916) it was about normal at 77.5. No official report of the acreage will be issued until July, but private estimates will no doubt be given. The first of these, received during the past week, gives an increase in the acreage as compared with last year of 4 per cent., but it is far too early yet to form any reliable estimate. At 10 a.m. on the 8th instant, in New York, the July position was 25.25.

The local market has been very irregular and frequent daily fluctuations have occurred. The highest price touched for Fine Broach May during the week has been Rs. 731, and the lowest Rs. 710, and changes of Rs. 10 to Rs. 18 have taken place in a few hours. A good deal of jobbing has been done, and profit taking and buying by speculators have been the chief cause of the rapid differences. A fair number of tenders of Fine Broach have been made, and at times this had had a temporarily depressing effect on prices. Further fluctuations are probable, but the chances are rather in favour of higher than of lower rates for the settlement. Yesterday Fine Broach May closed at Rs. 712, and this morning the quotation was Rs. 713.

The chief business has been in Fine Broach May, but some transactions were made early in the week in Fine Broach July at about Rs. 6 to Rs. 7 under the May rates. Later on, owing to an enquiry for July, this difference disappeared, and Fine Broach July was done at a premium of Rs. 3 to Rs. 4 on May. Business in Fine Khamgaon-Akola May has been difficult owing to scarcity of sellers. Some contracts of Coompta and Westerns for May-June and June-July delivery have been made.

Ready cotton has been in very moderate demand. Some cheap lots can be picked up from parties who do not care to incur the heavy monsoon charges for warehousing, but as a rule holders are firm and not inclined to dispose of stocks at present prices.

We understand that good progress is being made with the rearrangement of the working of the Bombay cotton market. The establishment of a clearing house is now well in sight, and the broadening of the basis of descriptions to be sold on contract is being thoroughly discussed. What is aimed at is hedge contracts for short, fair, and good staple cotton, in place of the present contract for a stated description sold for forward delivery long before the actual crop of such description is grown. The pros and cons of the hedge contract are now being discussed, and we shall refer to this again later on

At 1-45 p.m. to-day Fine Broach May, after touching Rs. 704 was Rs. 706.

SHARES.

As anticipated the week under report has been characterised by a reiteration of the activity and animation witnessed during the preceding period and some extensive transactions have again taken place at steady to firm rates. The opening of the week was marked by a rise of some importance in several favourite mill concerns which had the backing of certain large speculators who, it has transpired, have formed themselves into a ring to bolster up the market; but various disquieting rumours about military events which "bears" are never slow to propagate and to which the market has been so very sensitive, told on the nerves of several operators and eventuated in a set-back, with the result that the advance chronicled in the beginning of th week was lost. The feeling however changed immediately it was known that there was nothing discomforting about the war news, and rally followed.

A feature of the period has a remarkable appreciation in the [illegible] and Madhavjis, which ha[illegible] of a large and active [illegible] scrips now seem to be well t[illegible] over Rs. 150 has been re[illegible] and a further substantial [illegible] forward to. Among miscella[illegible] deal of activity has cha[illegible] which register an advan[illegible] on the week. This is ascribed to the covering sales by important Bears. Irons and Cements continue neglected with rates practically unaltered.

PIECE-GOODS.

The Cloth Market has been firm, but there has not been much activity during the past week. Clearances have been unsatisfactory, as the curtailment of facilities for railway traffic have hindered the movement of goods. Bookings have been stopped for various centres of consumption and buyers have therefore not been keen to add to their commitments at present. On the other hand, sellers have been very indifferent and as soon as any business is offering, the rates are put up against the buyers. Dealers are devoting their time in settling up old accounts which have remained pending since a long time. The tightness of the money market, the plague in the consuming districts and the high level of values are restricting the demand from upcountry. The Manchester market has remained firm and steady. Nowadays small, lines are sufficient to make a fair turnover and a considerable proportion of a reduced output. Several manufacturers are engaged on War work, but some makers who are not adopted for the various varieties of War goods are feeling the absence of the standard export trade, especially in sized goods. Troubles are arising every day in the way of securing ingredients for bleaching and sizing, and time may soon come when producers will require latitude from buyers with respect to all finished and sized cloths similar to the one which now exists in regard to colours. In pure makes the demand is good enough, and quotations are very firm. At a meeting at Manchester on the 4th instant the executives of all the cotton trade unions representing over 350,000 workers decided to ask for an advance of thirty per cent. of wages, and if this is granted it will no doubt reflect on the prices of cloth.

GREYS.

A firmer tone has prevailed in Grey Shirtings and Jaconets of Manchester make. Several qualities are getting scarcer day by day and sellers have been obliged to put up the rates, as fresh goods are not expected for some time yet. 45 inches Standard Red End Shirtings have gone up in price by leaps and bounds, as stocks are small and the demand is better. 43 inches by 30 yards Gold End Shirtings have improved by four annas per piece. 41 inches Shirtings worth about Rs. 17 per piece are out of stock. Grey Jaconets have gained one anna per piece in values all round. Grey mulls have remained firm. Grey Drills have been rather quiet and sellers are easier to deal with as they are anxious to meet the demand. Local Mill cloths have remained quiet with very little doing.

WHITES.

In White Goods the position has been decidedly better, although here and there the rates of two or three standard qualities have receded to some extent. Tape bordered Nainsooks have improved further by two annas per piece. 34 inches by 18 yards ranges of superior quality Nainsooks have been in better request and lots of hundred cases have been under negotiation, but sellers have been very firm and have put up the values by eight annas to one rupee per piece. The scale of differences originally existing between these ranges was three annas, but now it is four annas and eight annas owing to the scarcity of the superior qualities. 38 inches by 18 yards Nainsooks worth Rs. 8-12 have advanced by a rupee per piece. 39 inches by 20 yards Gold End Mulls have been easier, but a native importing firm is said to have bought some quantity of these in anticipation of securing profits on the transaction later on. 54 and 60 inches by 20 yards Fine Mulls command a good deal of attention from buyers with the result that prices have gone up by twelve annas to one rupee four annas per piece. White Shirtings have hardly shewn any change.

The cloth markets were closed on Friday on account of the Amwas holiday.

LANCASHIRE YARNS.

There has hardly been any change in the Yarn market. Clearances have not been satisfactory. The demand has been poor, although stocks are said to be light in the consuming centres. Buyers have been adopting a waiting policy. Sellers have also been indifferent and transactions of importance have therefore not resulted. Spinners on the other side have remained firm and the quotations received here are rather high for fresh forward business. Lancashire Grey Yarns are quoted as under:—

30s. Yarns, best, per lb., Rs. 2-1-0.
30s. Yarns, ordinary, per lb., Rs. 1-14-0.
40s. Yarns, best, per lb., Rs. 2-6-0.

BOMBAY AMUSEMENTS

ROYAL OPERA HOUSE.

Starting to-morrow night the first performance at the Royal Opera House will open at 6-30 punctually instead of at 6-45. The programmes presented by Mr. E. H. Du Casse are of more than the average length and the change is made in accordance with the wishes of a large number of patrons. To-night sees the last performances of the "Metro" production "Extravagance," which features Madame Petrova. This picture teaches a valuable wartime lesson, though the story in no way suggests a lesson, being full of strength and fortified by brilliant acting.
To-morrow night the new programme will be headed by another all-British production called "Daddy," a very human story taken from the well known song. The famous London revue actress Miss Peggy Kurton takes the principal part, while the whole cast is a powerful one drawn from various metropolitan theatres.

IMPERIAL.

Interest at this cinema this week centres upon the last instalment of the Pathe serial "The Fatal Ring." Few serials have held so firmly public attention as this one. Without any plot to speak of, it has depicted in sensational style the adventures of a wonderful diamond ring which has got to be placed in the eye of an idol to confer upon its owner supernatural powers. For several weeks past visitors to the Imperial Cinema have seen the jewel pass into and out of the hands of the rival parties in the story, but none of them till this week succeeded in fixing it in the eye of the idol. This week, in the concluding chapters of the serial, this is accomplished by the heroine and her lover, who are thereby enabled to put their persecutors out of the way. By what means it would spoil the story to tell. The programme includes another instalment of that instructive and entertaining series of war pictures, Pathe's "History of the Great War," which shows us the fine response by French colonial troops and the work of the French Navy and Air Service. These pictures appear to be growing increasingly popular, and with "Pathe's Gazette" they constitute a better a collection of war pictures than are to be seen anywhere at present in Bombay. The management announce that their new serial begins next week.

NEW ALHAMBRA.

From to-night the sixth and the last instalment of "The Crimson Stain Mystery" will be exhibited at the New Alhambra Cinema at New Sandhurst Road. Throughout this big serial Dr. Montrose, Florence, Clayton, were seen taking the most prominent part and De La Rue's identity was found to be inexplicable. But in this last instalment all the secrets which were mystifying to the audience, will be solved in one long series of events and happenings which will keep the interest of the audience at the highest pitch. That the serial of the Crimson Stain has proved to be a very gripping film goes without saying, but the concluding incidents will be by far the most amazing of the whole serial. From an advertisement inserted elsewhere it will be seen that this cinema has arranged from next week at a very high premium to screen a quite new serial 45,000 feet long, entitled "The Goddess or The Girl From Heaven," which is stated to be surpassing, in point of interest, and serial yet shown at the Alhambra. Prizes of Rs. 500 in cash will be distributed at the end of "The Crimson Stain Mystery."

NEW ALEXANDRA.

Packed audiences were the rule last week at the New Alexandra where the wonderful exploits of "Panopta, the Lady Detective," created a decided sensation. This week again Panopta takes the field, with her clever little monkey Jacko, who plays no insignificant part in the story; and spectators will have a lively time in watching how this plucky woman brings to book a gang of criminals headed by "Kippy the Ravisher." At the end of the first part, we saw Kippy taking a bold leap on horseback into a lake. Panopta has given him up for dead; but he is still alive, and has taken refuge in a villa built on the bottom of the lake. This submarine dwelling is a veritable "house of terror," equipped with the most modern scientific appliances, and furnished in a very luxurious manner. A good deal of ingenuity seems to have been expended in the execution of this portion of the picture, with striking results.

DHAR STATE WAR LOAN LOTTERY

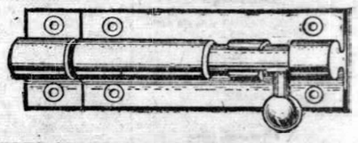

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

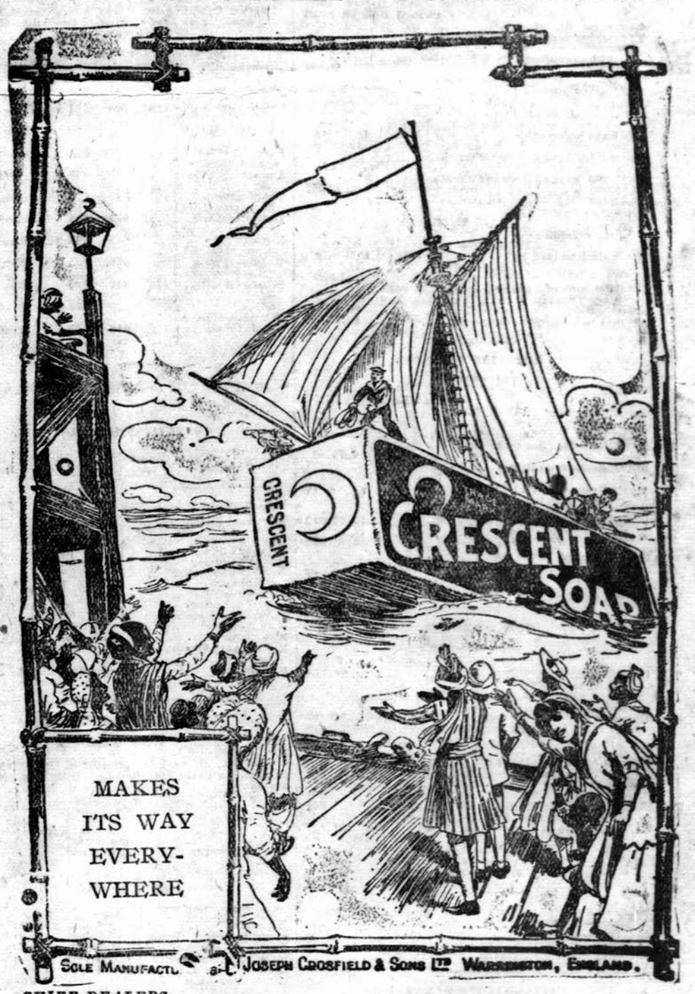

Sir,—I beg to call your attention to the following facts in connection with the Dhar State War Loan Lottery.
I had bought five tickets in the above lottery. After its drawing it was advertised that the list of the winning numbers can be had on payment of 8 annas, but the winners would be communicated with. No communication was ever sent to me but I got the list from which it appears that I had drawn a prize of Rs. 10; subsequently an advertisement appeared in the "Times of India" to the effect that to avoid unnecessary delay winners were to send their tickets along with a letter of claim to the Secretary of the lottery. I sent my winning ticket, as required; having received no reply, after some days I wrote another letter to the Dewan of Dhar State re-stating my claim. Not having received any reply even to my second letter after some time I wrote a third one which over a fortnight remains unanswered. If this is the way they deal with people who can write letters, how will they deal with the poor people who must have won quite a number of small prizes? I make no question of money; I can easily afford to dispense a much greater prize than Rs. 10; but I raise a protest against this peculiar way of treating the public and I am determined to carry my case to a Court of Law in order to expose the whole proceedings and to warn the public against lotteries.—Yours etc.,

MAN and MALARIA

(WITH APOLOGIES TO THE POET.)

Tell us not, in joyful numbers,
Malaria—an empty dream,
Doctors diagnose in slumbers,
And drugs are not what they seem.

Pain is real! Fever earnest!
And the grave is sure the goal;
"Dust thou art to dust returnest"
To the Body says the Soul.

Though enjoyment, and not sorrow,
Is the victim's hope and aim;
With all the help that he can borrow
The symptoms still remain the same.

While they last, his strength is fleeting
And his heart, though stout and brave,
Like a muffled drum is beating
Funeral marches to the grave.

In this Man-Malaria battle
The struggle is of death and life,
Where no arms or armours rattle,
But SQUIBB'S the hero in the strife.

Trust no mixtures, howe'er pleasant
Their advertisements you have read!
Try not "cures" that yet one hasn't!
But trust in SQUIBB and GOD o'erhead.

Imitators all remind us
None can vie with SQUIBB sublime
In the race they fall behind us
Efaced on the sands of time.

The name of SQUIBB finds fate another,
In this world of many fevers,
A solace to a health-wrecked brother
When fever burns or ague shivers.

Malaria is up and doing,
In his hands now hangs your fate;
But SQUIBB, as ever, keeps pursuing.
The fiend, who flies precipitate.

ALLEGATIONS OF WRONGFUL RESTRAINT.

PLEADER CHARGES LANDLORD.

At the Esplanade Police Court, before Mr. A. H. S. Aston, yesterday, Mr. H. B. Spencer, pleader, charged Mr. Haji Goolam Mohamed Ajam and Musa Jusab with mischief, wrongful restraint and abetment. Mr. C. N. Kanuga and Mr. K. F. Nariman appeared for the complainant; while Mr. S. G. Velinker, instructed by Mr. Darasha Mehta of Messrs. Payne and Co., defended the accused.

COMPLAINANT'S CASE.

The complainant's case was that he had his office on Kalbadevi Road on the second floor of a two-storied house, which was bought by accused No. 1 in or about September last, when he was attorned tenant to him. Accused No. 1 served him along with the other tenants with a notice to vacate by the end of December, 1917. Correspondence ensued between the accused and the complainant and the other tenants when ultimately the Bombay Rent Act came into force, and in view of the provisions of that Act the complainant and all the other tenants declined to vacate the premises, and to pay the 40 or 50 per cent. more rent which the landlord (viz., accused No. 1) wanted from them. They were prepared to pay him only the standard rent, i.e., the original rent plus 10 per cent., which was legally recoverable from them. The complainant alleged that it seemed that the object of the accused No. 1 in asking them to vacate was to demand more rent than was legally recoverable under the provisions of the Bombay Rent Act.

The complainant further alleged that on the 30th April, 1918, when he came to his office in the morning, he found a portion of the roof in the common passage broken open and he found some coolies and others working at the roof under the guidance of accused No. 2 On Wednesday, 1st May, 1918, on coming to his office, he found that the roof over the stairs and the common passage had been removed. One of the walls of the room opposite his office had been entirely removed and one of the walls of the room adjoining had been partly broken down and all the debris and the rafters, heap of tiles, etc., had been piled up high in the common passage against the door of his office room barring the way into his room, with the result that he found it impossible to open his office door and effect an entrance, and was thus deprived of the use of his office. He further alleged that the accused No. 1 in order to harass the tenants having failed in his object to make him and the other tenants vacate the premises, in order that he might let the same at a higher rent to other tenants, and knowing that owing to the Bombay Rent Act II of 1918, he would not be able to eject them by a suit, had adopted these tactics with a view to compel them to give him the possession of the premises.

The Magistrate enquired if there was no chance of a settlement.

Mr. Velinker said the only terms should be that the matter was compounded and the parties should leave all points about this matter to arbitration.

Mr. Kanuga said the landlord could not eject his client so long as the latter paid the standard rent plus 10 p.c., unless it could be proved that he was causing nuisance.

"NO INTENTION OF DAMAGE."

Mr. Velinker said the position he wished to maintain was that after the serving of the notice and the expiry of the period of extension granted him as a favour, Mr. Spencer was a trespasser on the premises. Also there was no cause of action in this case. There was no intention on the part of the accused to cause damage and no property of Mr. Spencer's was damaged. This case was exactly similar with other cases of perhaps of a more aggravated character. Mr. Spencer was, after the notice, a tenant on sufferance and if a landlord made alterations on his premises no wrong could be said to be done. Counsel cited a case in which a landlord had pulled down a whole staircase and yet the case was decided in his favour. In this case his client did not do the alterations merely out of cursedness. He wanted to let the floor to Mr. Pirojsha Hormusji Photographer who wanted to take his studio there. Besides, Mr. Spencer could have entered his room through Mr. Solomon's room.

Mr. Kanuga said the cases, cited by Mr. Velinker, had been decided when the Rent Act had not come into force.

The Magistrate enquired if Mr. Kanuga maintained that even if assuming that Mr. Spencer was there on sufferance he could avail himself of the Rent Act.

Mr. Kanuga said Mr. Spencer was in occupation of the room when the Rent Act came into force.

The Magistrate asked if the Rent Act could apply to tenants on sufferance.

"A RAPACIOUS LANDLORD."

Mr. Kanuga said Mr. Spencer had asked for an extension of the period when the Rent Act came into force. Seeing that he was unable to get the tenants ejected, the landlord had resorted to this device. The first accused held many properties and was opposed to the Rent Bill but being frustrated in his opposition he had resorted to this device to get his client out. He was, Mr. Kanuga alleged, a rapacious landlord and wanted to evade the provisions of the Rent Act. As to the argument that Mr. Spencer could have gone into his room through Mr. Solomon's room, it was preposterous. Mr. Spencer had a right to enter his room by the door of his own room. The Controller was approached and he wrote to the accused that he should charge only the standard rent. Mr. Spencer was prepared to pay the legal rent.

Mr. Velinker said they asked for the enhanced rent which had been agreed to.

The complainant was then examined. He said he had suffered no damage except perhaps a little annoyance.

Mr. Velinker said his client wanted to put up a glass roof which was one of the conditions of agreement between him and the photographer.

Mr. Spencer enquired if he was going to remove the roof.

Mr. Velinker said his client would provide a temporary roof till they got an ejectment order.

Mr. Kanuga challenged the accused to get the complainant ejected.

"NO MATERIAL DAMAGE."

Cross-examined by Mr. Velinker, Mr. Spencer said he had suffered no material damage. The debris would naturally fall into the passage and remain there unless immediately removed. He did not suggest that the first accused told the second accused not to employ men to remove the debris as quickly as possible. He did not usually use Mr. Solomon's room to pass through it. He only entered it when he went to see him.

He knew in February by a letter written by the first accused that the roof was going to be pulled down and that the occupier was to come there and have a roof. He had got the extension by favour. He got another extension by favour till February and wrote that there was a likelihood of getting other premises. He was then told to vacate by February but the Rent Act was not then in force.

Re-examined by Mr. Kanuga, Mr. Spencer said he was ready to pay the standard rent plus 10 p.c., When he saw the photographer, the latter told him that under no circumstances would he come into the premises and that he (Mr. Spencer) could inform the landlord accordingly.

Replying to the Magistrate, Mr. Spencer said that on the day in question he could not see his clients. If they did come they must have gone away, there was a big lock on the door.

Further hearing was adjourned.

"TEST CASE FOR THE RENT ACT."

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—I have been writing to the papers on all sorts of subjects under a nom-de-plume for the last fifty years, but it was left for a Mr. Chichgar with his titles of G. B. V. C. etc., to denounce that it is cowardly.

He further says that it would have been "wiser and more businesslike" to have approached him directly for an explanation, but may I ask whether it would not have been wiser and more businesslike for a paid servant of a public establishment to have given his explanation in your paper once for all rather than put all his constituents to apply to him for an explanation?

Now, Mr. Editor, may I ask which course is "wiser and more businesslike"—the one I suggest or abusing others as Mr. Chichgar has done from the heights of Olympus from which he is coming down on the 14th instant? I tremble to approach him, but any way he will have the pleasure of making my acquaintance in the Small Causes Court.—Yours, etc.,

H.

P. S.—You have my name and address with you.

TENANTS' RIGHTS.

During the hearing of an action for possession of two houses in Salisbury, which was remitted from the High Court to the Salisbury County Court, the managing-director of the plaintiff company, the Building Material Company, Salisbury Ltd., admitted that he sold the houses in question to the company because his solicitors advised him that he could not turn out the tenants unless he was the employer of the workmen for whom he wished to turn them out. He also stated that arrangements were being made to transfer two blocks of houses to the Company.

Mr. Schultess-Young (for the defendants): I suppose you know that the Government are preparing a Bill to make illegal what you are threatening to do?—Witness: At present it is not illegal.

Judge O'Connor, K.C., held that there was no reasonable requirement of the houses by the plaintiff company and that the action failed so far as the question of possession was concerned. Leave to appeal, if necessary, was granted.—The "Daily News."

A LAWYER INSULTED.

ALLEGATIONS AGAINST A SUB-INSPECTOR.

Yesterday, Mr. M. K. Azad, Bar-at-Law, instructed by Mr. Somji, pleader, appeared before Mr. B. N. Athavle, Fourth Presidency Magistrate with his client Mr. Abdulla Janai, and presented the following information:—

COMPLAINANT'S STATEMENT.

I am a Khoja Mahomedan residing at 10th Khetwady Lane. I am a graduate in Arts and Law of the Bombay University. I was enrolled as a pleader of the Honourable the High Court in the month of February last.

The accused abovenamed (D. S. Rane) is a Sub-Inspector of Police at present on duty at the Lamington Road Police Station. I did not know the accused before the 6th of May.

On the night of the 6th I had gone to Chowpatty in the company of two of my friends. At or about 11-15 p.m. I hired a victoria at Chowpatty and I and my friends got in. I told the driver to drive us to my residence at Khetwady. On arriving at my house. I offered the driver his legal fare i.e., six annas. The driver refused to take the same. I asked him to accept the amount as it was the legal fare, but he not only refused but became insolent and abusive. I then asked him to take me to the Lamington Road Police Station. I and my friends got into the victoria again. The victoria-driver instead of driving towards Lamington Road began to go towards Two Tanks. I then asked a policeman on point duty to assist us. Eventually under the orders of this Policeman the driver took us to the Lamington Road Police Station.

"DOOR KHARA RO."

I then went into the office and was about to make my complaint to the Police Officer in-Charge, that is, the accused abovenamed, when he brusquely said "Door Khara ro." I was greatly surprised at this treatment. I told the accused that I did not expect that sort of treatment from him. I told him that I was a lawyer and had only come there as I was harassed by a victoria driver. The accused thereupon contemptuously said "I care a hang if you are a lawyer." I very nearly lost my temper at this but I tried to persuade the accused into seeing the enormity of his conduct and told him that I had been to several Police Stations and spoken to several European and Indian Officers, but had never been addressed in this manner. The accused then sneeringly said "You are a lawyer only for such work, you can't get letter work." This was said in a most offensive tone. I had made my complaint but the accused, in spite of the fact that the driver had refused to take the legal fare, gave him six annas which he took from me. I also told the accused that the driver had used abusive language towards me, but the accused took no notice of that and asked me to go away and take out a summons against the driver. I then left the police station, with my friends.

On the following day I tried to have an interview with the Inspector but I did not see him as he was away. On Wednesday I saw Mr. Spiers, the Inspector in charge of the Police Station and made my complaint to him. In the meantime Mr. Williamson, the Superintendent of that Section had come into Mr. Spiers' room on some business of his own, when I was introduced to him by Mr. Spiers. I told him very shortly what had happened. He asked Mr. Spiers to take notice of the man and left the room. Mr. Spiers said that before he could do that I must send in a written complaint. I agreed and told Mr. Spiers that I hoped the accused would be asked to apologise to me. Mr. Spiers told me that he was sorry he could not do that as the accused would be dealt with "only departmentally and in my absence." I then told Mr. Spiers that that was not at all satisfactory and left the police station.

I now charge the accused Dattatraya Sadashiv Rane with having used the expressions to wit: "I care a hang if you are a lawyer" and "you are a lawyer only for such work, you can't get better work." with the intention of insulting me and pray that process be issued against the accused and that he be dealt with according to law.

The Magistrate ordered a summons to issue.

A MASTERPIECE

DAIMLER CAR.

Great as the progress and development of the petrol motor has been in the last decade, it was not until the Daimler Company produced the Daimler Sleeve-Valve Engine that a MASTERPIECE was recognised and acknowledged.

For years the Motor Engineering world had accepted the imperfect poppet-valve system, and had struggled with the inefficiency of cams, tappets, springs, noise, loss of compression, pockets in the combustion chamber, overheating, etc.

The Daimler Engine was revolutionary. By a system of perfectly lubricated sliding sleeve-valves all the above troubles were eliminated, giving pride of place to a motor of unrivalled simplicity and efficiency, running with a silkiness and flexibility which is the revelation to every motorist, who experiences its performance.

COUNCIL PRACTICE.

In the remarkable address which the Hon. Mr. Patel delivered at the Bombay Provincial Conference last week, there was an interesting analysis of the conditions under which the members of provincial councils are obliged to serve. Speaking as a man who has knowledge of things from the inside, his observations are entitled to special weight and the public will have no difficulty in sympathising with the claim for indulgence which non-official members, on account of their helplessness, are constrained to make. If the non-official member is unable to do much it is through no fault of his own. The plea is typical of the experience of non-official members in other legislative councils; for, it will be remembered that a member of the Madras Legislative was compelled, not long ago, to tell the truth, and describe the proceedings as a farce. Mr. Patel, in his criticism, abstained from reference to defects in the electorate and in the composition of councils, to the infrequency of meetings and the methods of election, but merely confined himself to internal procedure and the exercise of the President's powers. In its scope, the Minto-Morley reform was utterly inadequate to the needs of the times. In its actual operation, even the small scope of its usefulness has been narrowed through the officious limitations which the bureaucracy has succeeded in introducing from time to time. One chief object of the scheme was to give non-official representatives ample opportunities of criticising the policy of the Government. The provision was naturally irksome to a bureaucracy not accustomed to open criticism. The most formidable variety of criticism—in life and in politics—is that which has a positive, constructive value about it. In many of the resolutions moved by non-officials during the last nine years, there has been the spirit of reform and the readiness to provide fresh, positive suggestions for the improvement of the administration. Even officials dare not attribute the spirit of faction or obstruction in the service of non-officials as a whole.

The first disability of which the Hon. Mr. Patel rightly complained is the unconscionable latitude of authority invested in the President. It would be wrong to blame the President in every case when he is compelled by his position to exercise his arbitrary powers. He is not a non-party man; he is the head of the very administration to which criticism, positive and negative, are addressed. There is no obligation, as such, of impartiality. During a period of twenty-two months, which Mr. Patel quotes, 140 resolutions were notified and out of these, 55 resolutions were ruled out by the prerogative of the President, for the well-known reason that they would be contrary to, or inconsistent with, public interest. The phrase "public interest" is as potent in councils as the term "public safety" is with police magistrates. A resolution "to appoint a committee to draw up a comprehensive scheme for the provision of better sanitation and more widespread rural relief" was, for some recondite reason, anticipated to be in danger of colliding with public interest. Another resolution in Bombay on the exodus to the hills suffered a similar fate, though, by the way, public interest in other parts of India did not command on the same issue an equal degree of solicitude. The hardship to the public is that they are kept ignorant of the alleged disregard of public interest which representatives are supposed to exhibit in their work. The fate of interpellations is a study in confirmation. In the last session of the Legislative Council, there was to all appearance no interest taken at all by non-official members in the acute situation at Kaira. Our criticism on the matter elicited from Mr. Patel a remarkable defence. Thirty-five questions bearing on the subject were ruled out by a single stroke of the pen. Why? "The information sought to be elicited by the disallowed questions," said Mr. Patel, "would have, I venture to think, made most of the officials concerned very uncomfortable. I am therefore not surprised that the questions were disallowed." More cannot be said. "Much answering of questions is a weariness of the flesh"; so an official yawned out on one occasion in the Imperial Council. Mr. Patel's questions were disallowed not so much for danger of weariness to the flesh, as for the danger of positive worry to the soul.

When, in the teeth of official opposition, a resolution happens to be carried, there is some natural elation in the non-official ranks. There is the surprise of a novelty in the monotony of their discomfiture. The translation of the recommendation in practice is, however, in the hands of the Government. In critical debates the President ceases to be even ostensibly the impartial referee, as indeed it was seen when the question of local option was on the anvil at the last session. The resolution was scouted as "a hardy annual." Along with the disabilities they suffer in the meeting, non-officials have to face the bother of a stern Secretariat. Refusal, in the event of some one applying for the inspection of confidential records, is comprehensible. Mr. Patel, however, criticises the elaborate methods by which the Secretariat keeps non-official members at arm's length. The non-official member has an honourable and responsible role to fill, but the Secretariat refuses to give all reasonable facilities in the work he has to do. Reference of books and records to verify facts or elicit information by honourable members cannot possibly be an intolerable burden to the Secretariat and if the staff has the will, scandalous complaints of this kind will cease. The restrictions in the internal working of the Council thus form a special category of grievances, but most of them are bound to persevere with the division of ranks in the Council and the freedom of officials to curtail the usefulness of non-official cooperation whereby the officials make their own task correspondingly easy. It is thus obvious that the spirit and appplication of the present rules of procedure make any valid contribution in the work of administration by the non-officials in Council almost impossible. The rules made and the interpretation put upon them have defeated the objects of the Minto-Morley Reforms. The public must make sure that with the reforms that come, the rules of procedure are such that the purpose of the constitution is not frustrated.

A CIVILIAN OUT OF BEDLAM.

Madras papers received yesterday contain the report of a most astounding scene in the Cuddalore District Court. We reproduce the story from the "Hindu" in another column and invite the attention of our readers to the extraordinary fulminations of the judge when the authority of Sir Lawrence Jenkins was quoted by the defending pleader. The story looks incredible, since we believe that Mr. S. G. Roberts of the Indian Civil Service is, at least in a medical sense, sane. The pleader cited a judgment of Sir Lawrence Jenkins on a point of Criminal Law and for a moment Mr. Roberts restrained himself in words of modest refusal. The remark from the pleader that Sir Lawrence Jenkins was an eminent judge and is now a Privy Councillor set Mr. Roberts in a mad frenzy, which grew furious every second. Sir Lawrence was pronounced by this paltry pup of a district judge to be a despicable scoundrel! Furthermore, Sir Lawrence was alleged to have disgraced the race to which Mr. Roberts belongs and with the indignation consequent on this perception, this functionary of Cuddalore revelled in a series of abuses which would disgrace the rabidest costermonger. We wonder what notion Mr. Roberts can now possibly have, after calm reflection, of his own breed. He is a potentate big enough in little Cuddalore, but that he should dare to be fool and maniac enough to unburden himself thus in open court about an eminent judge whom statesmen, who make and unmake Robertses, have honoured,—is the maddest of mad ventures and it is a mercy that he was not thrown out of the window by indignant listeners.

Sir Lawrence Jenkins is a man held in esteem by universal consent and is acknowledged to be one of the most profound interpreters of law now alive. The sense of stern justice is to him as the breath of his nostrils and his robust adherence to the meaning and purport of law was such that he had as a judge in India possibly no rival and, certainly, no superior. Speaking of him as a Member of his Council, Lord Morley, when Secretary of State for India, wrote to Lord Minto the Viceroy:—"Sir L. Jenkins has been of immense value to me about reform and a more willing, ready and resourceful man in the legal and legislative line it has never been my fortune to meet. Besides that he has made a grand sacrifice of personal ease and domestic comfort in consenting to exchange his snug life here for a return to Calcutta, and only because he was told you desired it, and that I thought it would be for the public good. Do remember that he has made a sacrifice to duty, just as if he were a soldier." On the fact of Lord Morley's appreciation, Mr. Roberts remarked that it was a point against him! We wonder what the Government will do in the face of the insane utterances of Mr. Roberts in open court. Will they merely call his attention to the fact and point out the error of his ways? What will the High Court do? Persons like Mr. Roberts have no business to be anywhere outside Bedlam. Anthropological exhibits of his kind have certainly no place in the Civil Service. Government have but one plain and instant duty to perform and that is to heave him out of the service he has disgraced.

Notes of the Day.

New War Loan.

We feel it a pleasant duty to draw the attention of our readers to the advertisement of the second Indian War Loan which appears elsewhere, copies of which can be had at the office of the Accountant-General. The whole of the cash subscriptions to this Loan will of course be given to his Majesty's Government for the prosecution of the war. The first issue was a phenomenal success, yielding nearly half of the country's gift of £100 million to the Imperial Government. The new issue must prove a much greater success, even as the danger to the cause is greater to-day than it was last year. The call of the Empire is to each one of us to do the best he can. The soldiers are giving their all. The best that those who cannot, or do not fight, may do can only be less than this sacrifice; and when the obligation is equally great, obviously their contribution to the war loan must be prompted not by a mercenary motive alone—and the war loan is a profitable investment—not even by a consideration of investing surplus money at a profit, but by the desire to make a real sacrifice.

Commercial Mission to Kabul.

The Calcutta correspondent of the "Pioneer" has given particulars concerning "the important trade deputation" that recently left Cawnpore for Kabul. The chief members of the Commission are Sir Alexander McRobert, Managing Director of the Cawnpore Woollen Mills, and Mr. L. P. Watson, Managing Director of Messrs. Cooper and Co., of Cawnpore. Mr. Government of India, appreciating the loyalty of the Amir, it is stated, selected these two gentlemen as "experts" in their respective businesses to help the Amir—apparently at the public expense. If the object of the commercial depufation is, as it is described, "to coach the Amir and his advisers in the working of woollen mills, tanneries and leather factories," we do not see why the task should have been left entirely to European "experts." There are several Indian "experts" in the businesses mentioned and we have not the least doubt the Government of India, if it had cared to enquire, would have found one, if not more, of them willing "to give up his valuable time in order to assist the Ruler of Afghanistan in some of his schemes of industrial enterprise." And though "no political significance is attached to the Commission", the inclusion of an Indian would have materially helped in cementing the relations between Afghanistan and this country.

Malabari and His Poems.

It is perhaps not known beyond the boundaries of this province that the great man who has left his mark on the social history of latter-day India—Behramji Mehrawaaji Malabari—was a poet of no mean order who devoted his spare hours to the cultivation of Gujerati poetry. It seems but yesterday when the seemingly all-powerful Mr. Giles stigmatised the stirring poem of Samsarika as being seditious. But we can now survey with amusement the indictment brought against Malabari by the Director of Public Instruction. It was the grievous charge of stimulating the sentiment of "patriotism" among the Indians. This phase of Malabari's career has not received adequate recognition at the hands of the younger generation who are rearing the standard of nationalism not against the sovereignity of Britain but as a self-determining and self-evolutionising force. Mr. Phiroze Malabari has achieved a success in putting together some of the more noteworthy poetical compositions of his father in a book which supplies an index to the poetic energy which underlay the mind of the seemingly unimpassioned and calculating politician.

Early Experience.

The early training and hardships which form a chain of mournful circumstances, making the childhood of Malabari bitter, nurtured the poetical soul of the distinguished man when more prosperous times lent to the genius the opportunity which were denied to the struggling youth, brought up on the scanty means of an impoverished re-married widow. The unhappiness of these early days when Malabari's mother travelled on foot the long distance from Baroda to Surat left indelible marks on the child. The compiler who has bestowed much filial pains on the collection of Malabari's Kavyaratna or Poetic Gems has been fortunate in securing the services of a Parsi poet—Mr. Khabardar—to write an introduction to the collected poems,—in which are blended a knowledge of early poetry of Gujerat with a good grasp of the contemporary Gujerati literature both of the Hindu and the Parsi schools. There is ample material in the introduction for tracing the literary propensities and poetic affinities which early displayed themselves in young Malabari when he was marked out as the future man of letters by the eminent English journalist of this presidency, Mr. Martin Wood.

The Khayyamic Touch.

Broadly speaking, the merits of Malabari's poetic efforts lay in the facility with which he could handle the language dear to the heart of the Hindu imbued with not unnatural ideas of the loftiness of the Sanskrit element in the vernaculars. On the other hand, Malabari was enqually at home in manipulating the Persian element in Gujerati and in composing ballads and subtle satires on the model of prized Persian ensamples. There is almost a Khayyamic touch in the Larni which he has called the "Mirror of History." The poems like those on the vicissitudes of Surat, the birthplace of Malabari, delineate a picture which is striking as much for its originality of conception as for its irresistible poetic diction. The entire piece on the Hedonists of Surat brings home to the reader the passionate love which Malabari bore to his mother-country and the sympathy bordering on sentimantality which is not uncommon between Indians. It will yet take several generations, we fear, before works of purely literary contents other than sensational fiction, begin to pay themselves. The production of a book intended to present in one place and in a logical connected sequence selections from the poetic remains even of a great reformer can only prove an act of sacrifice.

ENEMY PUSH FOR RIDGE WOOD

ORIGINAL LINE PRACTICALLY RESTORED.

AUSTRALIANS IMPROVE LINE GAINED AROUND MORLANCOURT.

Throughout Wednesday the enemy pushed the attack in the direction of the north-eastern slopes of Scherpenberg and penetrated Kleinvierstrat Kabaret, and made vigorous efforts to get through the Ridge Wood. Later on they pressed us back and momentarily occupied a greater part of the Wood, but a counter-attack before dusk under terrific bombardment forced the enemy to yield the ground occupied and by night the original line was practically restored.

Further south the Australians improved the line north of the Somme Canal.

Successful Anglo-French counter-attacks in the Laclytte-Vormezeele sector drove the enemy out of the front line and the original position was re-established. Fighting continues northward of the Kemmel Hill where enemy again attacked on Thursday morning.

There was lively reciprocal artillery fire north and south of the Avre.

French Ministers and ex-Ministers gave evidence before the Sub-committee of the Foreign Affairs Committee regarding Emperor Karl's letters. The Committee concluding investigations passed a resolution expressing the opinion that the Austrian peace conversations never provided an opportunity for a peace acceptable to France and the Allies.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)
LONDON, May 9.
Recd. 12 noon, May 10.

Reuter's correspondent at the British Headquarters wiring to-day says throughout yesterday the enemy pushed the attack in the direction of the north-eastern slopes of Scherpenberg with great determination and at first made several successive stages of progress. An opening infantry attack was launched at 9-30 under cover of intensive bombardment directed against the right flank of our northern army and overlapping our junction with the French.

An hour later after throwing in several waves of assaulting troops the Germans gained a footing in our front line on a considerable width and enemy parties penetrated to Kleinvierstraat Kabaret. The situation at this time seems to have been rather difficult. Thenceforth until early afternoon the Germans made vigorous efforts to get through the Ridge wood. About half past one when the battle was still raging with unabated fury we still held the hamlet of Kleinvierstraat, but had been pressed back south-west of the wood. The French were then holding the line along Wyverbeek.

ENEMY FORCED TO YIELD GROUND.

The Germans, continuing to throw in fresh troops pressed us back towards the western edge of the Ridge wood and momentarily occupied a greater part of this, though we still had parties holding out in Kleinvierstraat. Later the French helped to restore our complete possession of this place. Before sunset the Germans had fought themselves to a standstill having suffered very heavily, but had gained ground of some tactical importance, the Ridge wood being a distinct step towards a coveted point d'appui of Scherpenberg. Just before dusk we counter-attacked under cover of terrific bombardment and the enemy was forced to yield the ground occupied at such cost, and by night we had restored the original line practically everywhere leaving only one or two little pockets of the Germans to be mopped up.

Further south the Australians around Morlancourt further improved the line gained by their advances north of the Somme canal.

ANGLO-FRENCH SUCCESS IN LACLYTTE-VORMEZEELE.

ENEMY DRIVEN OUT OF PORTIONS OF FRONT LINE.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)
LONDON, May 9, 2-15 p.m.
Recd. 8-30 a.m., May 10.

A British communiqué says successful British and French counter-attacks in the Laclytte-Vormezeele sector drove the enemy out of portions of the front line in which he had obtained a footing and re-established the original position. We took several prisoners.

The enemy this morning again attacked northward of the Kemmel hill and pressed our line in slightly at one point. Fighting continues there.

Two German divisions took part in Wednesday morning's attack. Our artillery and infantry inflicted heavy casualties both during the attack and the counter-attack. We took thirty prisoners in local fighting at Bucquoy. We made further progress between the Somme and the Ancre and improved our new positions here taking prisoners. We repulsed the raids at Lens and Merris. The artillery developed considerable activity in the Albert sectors.

DEFENCE OF SCHERPENBERG.

FRENCH COLONEL PRAISES BRITISH SOLDIERS

(REUTER'S SPECIAL WAR SERVICE.)
LONDON, May 9th.
Recd. 11-45 p.m., May 10.

Reuter's correspondent at French Headquarters telegraphing yesterday, describing the work of the French troops in the defence of Scherpenberg on the 29th, April says: The same German troops were engaged which captured Kemmel and the same French division still barred the way. The French Colonel under whose orders were two battalions of British infantry and some British artillery said that the British infantry who were Leicestershire men, fought in a way which evoked the warmest praise from himself and the Poilue. In recognition of skill and courage with which the British guns were served under devastating enemy fire, the same French Colonel bestowed the French War Cross on a British Major, pinning on the decoration in the midst of the fight. One French battery fired until every gun was disabled and officers and half men serving the guns were killed or wounded.

In several instancesin recent fighting the Germans were using captured British aeroplanes or their own marked like British, thus securing immunity from the French guns and swooped down on groups of French officers, achine-gunning them from a hudred yards' range. The French division paid a heavy toll for its victory, but it stopped dead the enemy offensive against Flemish Hill. Since the 29th, April the Germans have scarcely stirred except in response to French attacks. So completely has the enemy been beaten that the men who went through the battle are confident that he will not try a frontal attack on Scherpenberg.

In tonight's communiqué Field-Marshal Haig says: At the conclusion of fighting on the morning of the 9th in Laclytte-Voormeezele sector the British and French positions had been completely re-established.

The enemy after artillery preparation launched two early local attacks in the neighbourhood of Albert and Bouzincourt Our rifle and machinegun fire broke up the latter attack, the enemy not reaching our trenches.

The enemy after suffering heavy casualties from our fire at Albert effected a lodgment in our advanced positions in a front of 150 yards.

IRRITATION IN GERMANY.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)
LONDON, May 9.
Recd. 8-30 a.m., May 10.

There is evidently a good deal of irritation in Germany at the continued inactivity of the Austrians. EMPEROR KARL'S LETTERS

EVIDENCE OF FRENCH MINISTERS.

WHY THE PROPOSALS WERE REJECTED.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)
LONDON, May 8.
Recd. 11-45 p.m. May 10.

The "Manchester Guardian's" Paris correspondent gives a summary of the evidence of French Ministers and ex-Ministers before the Sub-Committee of the Foreign Affairs Committee which shows that Emperor Karl wrote a second peace letter early in April 1917. presumably to Prince Sixte of Bourbon, in which he declared that he was convinced that he could induce Germany to make peace provided that the territorial demands of the Allies were restricted to Alsace-Lorraine, it being understood that all occupied territory would be evacuated and Belgian sovereignty unconditionally restored.

The Emperor added that he had already assured an agreement with Bulgaria and he asked that the confidential character of this letter should be loyally respected by the French Government.

PRESIDENT POINCARE'S PROPOSALS.

The correspondent says that President Poincare, in the course of subsequent negotiations proposed that Austria should cede Trieste to Italy in exchange for Silesia. Emperor Karl replied that there was an initial obstacle to this proposal, namely, that whereas Austria occupied Trieste and Trentino, France did not occupy Silesia.

The dossier includes a statement by an important Austrian personage that if Germany proved intractable and an armstice was declared between Austria and the Allies, a revolution would break out in Germany at the instigation of minority Socialists.

WHY M. RIBOT REFUSED AUSTRIAN PROPOSALS.

M. Ribot in evidence stated that he had to choose between refusing Austrian proposals and breaking with Italy. He considered himself bound to choose the former alternative. M. Ribot admitted that Mr. Lloyd-George agreed only after a considerable hesitation to a negative reply on which Baron Sonnino insisted. The dossier shows that Mr. Lloyd-George insisted more than once on the importance of Austrian proposals and the desirability of not losing so favourable an opportunity of making peace. The correspondent says that President Poincare, however, maintained that the war could only be ended by a complete military victory of the Allies

M. PAINLEVE DEFENDS M. RIBOT'S REFUSAL.

Some members of the Sub-Committee opined that Emperor Karl's proposals would have been turned down immediately without discussion but for Mr. Lloyd George.

M. Painleve defended M. Ribot's refusal on the ground that any other course involved rupture with Italy.

The correspondent affirms that further evidence shows that in July 1917 German Government, via Belgium and M. Briand invited peace discussions in Switzerland with Baron von Lancken and that this overture was refused by the French, Italian and British Governments without consulting Russia or the United States. Belgium and Rumania were in favour of discussing the German proposals. Russia and the United States were also not consulted in the case of both the letters of Emperor Karl.

M. Painleve giving evidence with regard to Revertera-Armand negotiations last August said, he did not know about Emperor Karl's letters when Count Revertera made the first overtures.

The Sub-Committee has still to hear the evidence of M. Briand and M. Clemenceau before presenting the conclusions.

AUSTRIAN PEACE CONVERSATIONS.

ENTERTAINMENT TO U. S. NAVAL OFFICERS AND MEN.

ADMIRAL SIMS ON INCREASING SHIPBUILDING.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)
LONDON, May 9.
Recd. 8-30 a.m., May 10.

A thousand American naval officers and men were entertained to-day at the National Sporting Club, Sir Frederick Smith said he was glad the Americans were here to see the spirit of the people and the sacrifices they were prepared to make to secure victory for democracy.

Admiral Sims said America had come in with both feet and would stay in with both feet till the thing was finished. Germany's only hope of winning was by submarines but since April last year the sinkings had been steadily decreasing and the curve of the building programme had been ascending. These curves would cross within a fortnight and we should be increasing shipbuilding instead of submarines decreasing it. Germany knew that and that was why she was making a desperate effort on the western front which was her last chance.

SIR LAWRENCE JENKINS INSULTED.

A CIVILIAN OUT OF BEDLAM

AN AMAZING INCIDENT.

The correspondent of the "Hindu" has sent the following which is published in that paper:—To-day (May 6) a Criminal Revision Petition came up for argument before Mr. S. G. Roberts, I.C.S., Sessions Judge of South Arcot. Mr. V. J. Swami Pillai appeared for the petitioner while the respondent was represented by Mr. R. Srinivasa Aiyangar. As the Judge was writing the order, he remarked that he proposed to direct the commitment of the respondent to the Court of Session for an offence under Section 477A of the Indian Penal Code when the Vakil for the respondent referring to a decision of the Calcutta High Court reported in I.L.R., 36 Cal, 955 contended that to the facts alleged he found Section 477A would not apply. He took the Judge through the facts of the Calcutta case and the operative portion of the Judgment and contended that a charge under Section 477A would be inadmissible in law. Thereupon the following conversation took place:—

Judge.—I refuse to follow the decision of the Calcutta High Court. I am not bound by it. I decline to follow it.

Vakil for the respondent.—The judgment was that of that eminent Judge, Sir Lawrence Jenkins, now of the Privy Council and entitled to great weight.

Judge.—Jenkins! he is a scoundrel, despicable scoundrel.

Vakil.—I am referring to Sir Lawrence Jenkins, formerly Chief Justice and now of the Privy Council.

Judge.—Yes, Sir, I know. He is an infamous scoundrel. He is a disgrace to our race. Don't mention his name.

Vakil.—I am very sorry that your honour should refer to that Judge in that strain and employ such language.

Then the Judge muttered something which was inaudible.

The Judge proceeded to complete the order and before signing it addressed the Vakil as follows:—

Judge.—You see, Jenkins was a Judge who was always anxious to earn cheap popularity. He always twisted the Penal Code and the provisions of the criminal law and let go unpunished a large number of scoundrels. He never cared for the spirit of the law. His judgments were responsible for the passing of the Defence of India Act and the weakening of the hands of the Government. Don't refer to his name.

Vakil.—As a judge he felt it his duty to administer the law to the best of his lights unswayed by executive or extraneous considerations. Uninfluenced by these considerations he discharged his duty as an impartial Judge.

Judge.—No Sir, he let go a number of scoundrels.

Vakil.—We love him as he has from an Indian point of view, restored pubilc confidence in the administration of justice. He restored peace and tranquillity in Eastern Bengal, and but for him Bengal would have been in a ferment seething with discontent.

Judge.—No Sir, not at all, Sir

Vakil.—You must remember that Sir Lawrence Jenkins was specially selected by Lord Morley in those troublous times!

Judge.—That is a point against him.

Vakil.—All the same he was not a bureaucrat and that is a point in his favour.

Further discussion ended, and the learned Judge read out the order.

ENEMY'S NEXT BLOW.

PREPARATIONS BEHIND THE LINES.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
ALLAHABAD, May 9.

The London correspondent of the "Pioneer" cables:—A correspondent on the British front writes that the Germans may be assumed to have spent the lull in preparing new attacks. He expresses the belief that the preparations in some parts must be nearly complete and the enemy may be expected to deliver violent blows in more than one place, Amiens not being forgotten. During the fighting for the Flemish hills the German line astride the Somme has been quiet but the region behind has been in full activity. Sufficient time has now elapsed since the offensive there broke down, through lack of adequate artillery for the enemy to bring up his heavy guns and possibly even to mass them in the same depth and profusion as he did for the first advance on March 21st. The railways through Peronne and Nesle are said to have been rebuilt with unusual speed and additional lines laid down. The Germans make very little attempt to disguise this industry or conceal its purpose. The correspondent predicts that when the storm breaks again the great part of the present battle front will be affected. The Germans still seem to have two goals in their minds, Amiens and Calais.

"GERMAN OFFENSIVE HAS BEEN CRUSHED."

While the "Vossische Zeitung" says that it is time to recognize that the German offensive in the West has been crushed and other German papers dropping the theory that the offensive was to force an immediate peace are talking of the war lasting a long time," yet one military critic in Germany writes that the resumption of the western offensive is expected to be accompanied by an attck on Italy on a great scale, the whole constituting a supreme gigantic combined effort whereby the Central Powers hope to achieve the final success for which they are longing so terribly.

GRENADE STORE BLOWN UP.

DEVASTATING EXPLOSION NEAR PARIS.

30 PEOPLE KILLED; 578 INJURED.

The special correspondent of the "Daily News" gives, during mail week, reliable details of the big explosion which occurred at the grenade depot at Le Courneuve. The number of deaths is now put at 30. The injured, so far as is known up to the present, number 578. Of these 200 were detained in hospitals. Thousands of men are now employed in clearing away the wreckage and preparing other workshops, and the announcement is made that work will be resumed very speedily.

The grenade depot was installed in a field between Le Courneuve and Aubervillers, about four miles from Paris. To this depot the output of four large factories was delivered daily, and workmen and soldiers were employed in arranging the grenades and shells in cone-like heaps. There were three heaps composed of thousands of grenades.

CAUSE OF THE ACCIDENT.

The explosion, which was accidental, occurred at quarter to two in the afternoon. An artilleryman, who is now wounded and in hospital, was being assisted by two comrades in carrying a case of grenades when a clicking noise told him that the detonator was in action. Knowing that in five or six seconds the entire case would be blown up, he dropped the case and shouted to the other men who ran to a trench shelter.

The case exploded, and other cases of bombs blew up one after the other. Then followed the terrific detonation which was heard all over Paris, and the shattering of innumerable windows. A shower of glass fell a few yards from where I am writing, but did no damage. Windows were smashed in the big shops and at the Opera, and the glass ceiling of the Academy, the Chamber of Deputies, and the Senate were also damaged.

On the boulevards people, convinced that the Gothas had made a daylight raid ran for cover. When the explosions had ceased and those who returned to the open looked up at the sky they saw a remarkable spectacle—an enormous smoke cloud black at first, and afterwards white, that for some minutes remained absolutely motionless.

On approaching the scene of the explosion one saw roofs demolished, window frames blown out, and gaping fissures in walles. The roadway was littered with shattered tiles and glass. Many of the occupants of these ruined homes were injured.

PROMPT RELIEF MEASURES.

Ambulance men, firemen, and soldiers including 400 Americans, hurried to the scene. The devastated depot itself presented the appearance of a bombarded village at the front. Above the scene of wreckage rose clouds of smoke, showing that fires were still smouldering among the heaps of grenade cases.

Chemists' shops in the vicinity were soon crowded with injured people, the majority bleeding at the nose and ears. The more seriously injured, those with broken arms and legs, and twisted feet were taken to the local mairies and police stations.

One fireman, while trying to extinguish a fire, trod on a bomb, which exploded and blew off his foot, and three little girls, on leaving school at Aubervillers, died of shock. Of the guard of 25 men, 13 are wounded and 12 missing.

The work of rescue was splendidly organised. Thanks to the American Red Cross, which sent its ambulances with remarkable rapidity, numerous families rendered homeless were found lodging and provided with linen and clothes. Quick and admirable assistance was also given by the French Society for Helping the Wounded, its vehicles bringing injured people to 32 of its hospitals organised as dressing stations for victims of air raids.

OTHER CABLE ITEMS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
LAHORE, May 9.

The "Civil and Military Gazette's" London correspondent cables:—

The Hague correspondent of "The Times" learns that intense, almost house-to-house canvass of workers of both sexes is proceeding in Germany with the object of encouraging the people to hold on. Informers are invited to denounce pessimists and authorities promise stern measures against those circulating reports of terrific casualties.

French papers agree in foretelling the resumption of the German offensive on a tremendous scale. Some anticipate an inferior spirit in the attackers owing to desertions and evidences of failing moral, while others believe that the attack will be entrusted to entirely fresh troops.

An American correspondent in France says that 18 fresh or reformed divisions have been identified on the Amiens front.

"The Times" Milan correspondent states that ten Socialist leaders will be tried for high treason, including provocation of Turin riots in August 1917, in which 41 persons were killed, 193 wounded, and the damage reached £60,000.

"STAND AS ONE MAN AND FIGHT THE INVADER."

MRS. NAIDU'S STIRRING APPEAL.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CONJEEVERAM, May 9.

Rao Sahib Cunnan Chetty, Chairman of the Reception Committee of the Madras Provincial Conference, in his address today, referring to the Delhi Conference, expressed his disappointment that the Viceroy did not think it fit to take advantage of the great occasion to make an announcement regarding the speedy establishment of Self-Government and said:—

"Whatever intensity of disappointment which I, in common with my fellow-countrymen, feel at the way in which the question of constitutional reform has been relegated to a secondary place, there can be no doubt that every one of us would to the best of his ability strive to carry out the substance of the Delhi recommendations contained in the two main resolutions. It must be our endeavour to give our best to win the war, while it must be the endeavour of Government to do their best to bring forth from the people the fullest man-power and material resources needed to secure victory for the Empire."

He wanted the authorities to abandon their policy of distrust in the administration of the Arms Act and in the methods of their recruitment from particular tracts or tribes for regular armies and to accord the fullest possible opportunities to Indians for commissions and careers in the Army.

The twenty-fourth Madras Provincial Conference opened this afternoon. After Rao Saheb Cunnan Chetty, chairman of the reception committee, delivered his addr[illegible] Mrs. Sarojini Naidu was formally elected to the chair and delivered an extempore address. She appealed to the audience to stand as one man and fight against the invasion of India that it might not pass into the hands of others. Finally, she condemned the Brahmin and non-Brahmin differences in Southern India and appealed that if they were to get back their freedom they must submerge all illusions and differences in responding to the call of Government for men and money. All that they said was that they were ever ready to respond, but in order to prove to the youths that they were really asked to fight for freedom, they asked Government to give them a pledge that they would get back all that they once possessed but had lost and that they would get some measure of Self-Government. Whether they got this now or not, they were bound to get it and let India for the sake of love, of liberty, raise an army now for the defence of India. There was not one woman in India who would not say to her husband or son. "Go forth and come back either victorious or dead on thy battlefield." The women of India are on the side of the Premier's call.

The visit of these gentlemen to Kabul is an entirely private matter and they are not in any way whatever an official deputation.

HIGH PRICES AND HIGH RENTS.

KARACHI MUNICIPALITY'S EFFORTS TO ALLEVIATE DISTRESS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

KARACHI, May 9.

The Karachi Municipality have agreed to make a grant up to Rs. 2,000 weekly for not more than four weeks to make up the loss incurred by selling "atta" to the public by the Deputy Food Controller at a cheaper rate than the purchase price.

It was also decided last night that six shops be opened in convenient places of the city as an experimental measure for three months for the sale of commodities consumed by people of limited means, that Rs.60,000 be advanced for the purpose; that the Managing Committee be authorised to employ any temporary establishment for the purpose and that a short report on the working of these shops be submitted to the Municipality every three months.

The Municipality is considering a proposal submitted by the Chief Officer with a view of encouraging house-building to alleviate existing pressure on accommodation. The Chief Officer suggests that building sites should only be sold on special terms and conditions, the period allowed for building to be one year, but for exceptional reasons, the Managing Committee to have power to extend the time by another year on payment of a fine equal to one year's land rent; the plots to be resumed if specified buildings are not completed in every respect and ready for occupation at the end of the time allowed; rental to be based on the price realised at auction sales; but the Managing Committee to have power to schedule the price at which plots will be offered on lease. Suggestions as regards facilities for the formation of co-operative and tenant co-partnership societies have also been approved by the Managing Committee of the Municipality.

NOT YET A VICTIM OF PRESS ACT.

(From o[illegible] correspondent.)

KARACHI, May 9.

At to-day's sittings of the Rasai Committee in Karachi the Hon. Mr. Bhurgri contradicted the Associated Press statement that the "Alamin," a vernacular paper of Hyderabad, was asked by the District Magistrate to show cause why security under the Press Act should not be taken from it and maintained that the statement was absolutely groundless. Mr. Bhurgri is the proprietor of the paper.

TRAFFIC ON N. W. RAILWAY.

KARACHI MERCHANTS AGITATED OVER NEW RESTRICTIONS.

(From our Correspondent.)

KARACHI, May 9.

A notification appearing in the "N. W. R. Weekly Gazette" directs the station masters and staff to see that packages containing piecegoods, silk or cotton gunnies, etc., tendered for booking as luggage, parcels or by goods trains, should bear the full name of the consignee and destination station legibly written in marking ink in English on the outer covering and also have a patch of white cloth sewn on them by the senders for railway marks, so that packages may not be changed in transit and the railway may not be made to pay heavy claims.

The first portion of the notification is all right and will not cause material difficulty, but the latter portion relating to a piece of cloth being sewn on the packages (whether cases or bales) is impossible of compliance and is taken objection to on the ground that it is impossible to sew cloth on bales received from Home, as they are so stiff that a needle cannot be drawn through the outer covering. As for the cases, it is practically out of the question to sew cloth on wood, of which, the cases are formed.

The Sat Narayan Indian Piece-goods Merchants' Association, Karachi, have sent a telegram to the Traffic Manager, requesting that orders may be modified and have also addressed him on the subject. Pending receipt of a reply most of the merchants have stopped booking consignments and a deputation of piecegoods dealers proposes to wait on the District Traffic Superintendent, N. W. R., Karachi, to-morrow. Already booking of goods in these days has been anything but satisfactory and dealers have suffered heavily.

CONNAUGHT IN PALESTINE.

INVESTITURE IN JERUSALEM.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

ALLAHABAD, May 10.

The "Pioneer's" Cairo correspondent writes:—The Duke of Connaught has had a most interesting tour in Palestine. He held an investiture in Jerusalem when he presented to the members of the Egyptian Expeditionary Force orders and medals conferred on them by the King. BURMA WAR LOAN SWEEP.

DISPUTE OVER SECOND PRIZE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

RANGOON, May 9.

A case which is causing interest in Upper Burma is pending in the court of the District Magistrate, Kyaukee. It is a suit brought by Maung Mu and nine others of Singaing area against Maung Hpi and 88 others, praying for a declaration of their title to a ticket which drew the second prize of Rs. 75,000 in 1917 Burma War Loan Sweep. The tickets are now in the possession of the Rangoon managers of the sweep, Messrs. Craig Gardner and Harris, chartered accountants. The plaint alleges that ten plaintiffs purchased the tickets in question together with other tickets from the book in possession of Mg Tha Kyi, an advocate of Singaing. Demands for the bonds won had been made to the managers of the sweep but the latter replied that they could not deliver the bonds to the plaintiffs on the ground that the defendants had served them with a notice claiming a share in the prize. The plaintiffs denied this claim. It is alleged that certain villagers were assessed by the Thamadis and ordered to subscribe to the war loan the assessment being based on the same system as is adopted for the Thathamoda tax in Upper Burma villages. In obedience to orders the villagers, it is stated, paid sums varying from one rupee to Rs. 150. In the case of four of the villages in Kyaukas area the assessment, it appears, amounted to Rs. 2,700, out of which Rs. 2,600 was paid into the treasury for War Loan certificates and the remaining Rs. 100 was utilised for purchasing 20 tickets in the War Loan Sweep. One of the tickets drew the second prize of Rs. 75,000 and the villagers were informed of the fact. Although they did not know the number of tickets bought or the nom-de plumes or the address on the tickets of the custodian the villagers numbering 89, who felt themselves aggrieved petitioned first to the Deputy Commissioner of Kyaukro, then to the Commissioner of Meiktila and later to the Lieutenant-Governor, subsequently the matter has been taken to the court by the other side.

The "Pioneer's" Cairo correspondent writes:—

As soon as the war broke out between Turkey and the Allied powers, the Ottoman authorities in Syria made a frantic house to house search for arms and ammunition. The Searchers duly arrived at the cathedral and ordered the resident clergy to surrender at once the guns, which thy had stored there. Protestations were unavailing and the searchers secured the premises and insisted on searching the up goor in the chapel in question. Eventually they withdrew much disgusted at the fruitlessness of their efforts to lay bare the hidden arms.

NEW WAR LOAN.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—As Government is issuing particulars of a "New War Loan," it would be interesting to purchasers of the First War Loan to hear definitely when their Script (or Bonds) will be ready.

Enquiries solicit some silly reply as "There has been some delay in obtaining the necessary Script," when sufficient time has elapsed for any quantity of Script to have been prepared.—Yours, etc.,

SEASON TICKET FARES.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—With reference to the increase of season ticket fares on the B. B. and C. I. Railway, particularly between Church Gate and Bhayander, Bassein Road, Nalla Sopara and Virar, the notification dated the 22nd November, 1917, has been revoked and the season ticket fares on the local suburban section which were in force on the 31st December, 1917, have been reverted to. The effect of this change is that not only has the sliding scale been re-introduced as regards the four stations between Virar and Borivli, but the concession on quarterly tickets has also been restored, as regards the whole of the local suburban section.

A meeting of season ticket-holders travelling from these four stations was held at Samel Villa near Nalla Sopara Station on Sunday last, the 5th instant, when Mr. P. N. Shende, was in the chair. A number of resolutions was then passed expressing the thanks of the meeting to the Government of Bombay, Messrs. Daphtary, Fefreira and Diwan, the Railway Board, Delhi and the Bombay Municipal Corporation, the City of Bombay Improvement Trust, the Bombay Housing Association, and the Public Press, for the support accorded to petitioners. A resolution was also passed to the effect that it was desirable that an association should be formed of season ticket-holders from Bhavander, Bassein Road, Nalla Sopara and Virar.

As directed by the meeting, I have much pleasure in enclosing a copy of the resolution expressing the thanks of the meeting to you.—Yours, etc.,

M. D. ALMEIDA,
for President.

Virar, May 9.

[The following is the resolution referred to in the above:—"Resolved on the motion of Mr. Shamrao Pandurang Vaidya and seconded by Mr. B. A. Vaidya that this meeting wishes to place on record their most sincere gratefulness to the several papers published in Bombay and elsewhere for the sympathy which the Press extended to the petitioners in their trouble and the warm support which the Press gave to the petitioners and without which support it is felt the grievances of the petitioners would not have been remedied. A copy of this resolution be sent to the Editor of the "Bombay Chronicle."]

KEROSINE OIL FAMINE.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—There is in fact a famine of white kerosene oil which is chiefly used in Bombay for lights and stoves etc., the red oil being too smoky and quite useless for chimney lamps etc. Prices have been fixed by the Controller but if a purchaser goes to the oil agent's place he is told that there is no stock of oil or oil has already been sold and that he should call the next day, but the next day never comes. At some places A. P. C. and B. O. C., agents are taking white oil carts along with Indo-Burma Petroleum Coy.'s Saraswati Brand of red oil and these agents sell white oil only to those who will buy an equal proportion of red oil. As nobody can buy the whole tin of red oil which is useless for them they generally buy a bottle or two of that quality in order to have a bottle or two of white oil which is sold each at 2 annas per bottle the prices fixed for retail sale. Though there are four oil companies in Bombay not a single company nor their agents can give a purchase[illegible] bulk in his tin nor even a tin can [illegible] at the advertised prices. Will n[illegible] the Controller in the interest of the public in general control the sale of oil in Bombay? Will not the leaders of Bombay call a public meeting to protest against this profiteering and to arrange the free sale of oil in Bombay as before?—Yours, etc.

S. K. NAIQUE.

Bombay, May. 10.

CORNERING WHEAT.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—Will you please allow us to bring to the notice of the Controller of the prices and Government Authorities through the medium of your steemed journal that the speculators in Bombay are doing a great wrong to the public by cornering in these days food stuffs such as wheat under the present circumstances when the traffic is entirely closed. The up-country rates are as under:—

Lialpur: 3-9-0 per maund. Rs. 5 per cwt.
Shamli: 3-13-0 per maund. Rs. 5-5-0 per cwt.
Mazufarnuga: 3-13-0 per maund Rs. 5-5-0 per cwt.

If the Railway fare and other expenses of bringing it to Bombay be added to it it comes to Rs. 6-14 per cwt. whereas the price is at present Rs. 5-6. Such a vast difference is due to speculators' cornering. Will not the controller or any other authorised body look to it? It is a matter of vital importance.

The Controller should ask the speculators to have their prchase and sales lists sent to him as early as possible, which will show how much each party has bought and for what other purpose if not cornering. These transactions are done in the Bombay market deliverable April May, so the bears sold their wheat believing that the market will go down as the crop of Delhi side was exceptionally good.

And in reality he case is such and the rate is also very favorable which comes here Rs. 6-14.—Yours, etc.,

ALL-INDIA NEWS IN BRIEF.

The death at Murree is reported of Mr. Clarence Kirkpatrick, Barrister, Lahore.

The Joint Magistrate of Allahabad on Friday committed Mr. Charles E. Dye, late Managing Director of Rechabite Society to take his trial at the Sessions on charges of criminal breach of trust in respect of the society's monies. Mr. Dye pleaded not guilty.

The death took place on Thursday afternoon at Secunderabad of F. W. Watts, District Traffic Superintendent, Nizam's Guaranteed State Railway and an old resident of the place. The funeral took place with military honours on Friday morning the Rev. Mitchell conducting the service. A large number of friends attended.

A return issued by the Department of Statistics says the yield of the cotton crop of 1917-18 was estimated at 4,035,000 bales on an area of 2,47,81,000 acres as compared with 4,489,000 bales on an area of 2,17,45,000 acres. In the revised final figures of last year there is a decrease of 10 per cent. in the outturn.

Last year the Government deputed Dr. Marsden, dyeing expert, to make investigation as to the prospects of indigo industry in Madras. He has now submitted a long report on the subject. He finds that at normal pre-war rates the return from indigo is nearly so great as from some other crops especially food crops. He suggests the trade could be improved by seed selection by checking adulteration and by manufactures on a standardised plan.

A Madras message says:—The Government of Madras have passed orders in the matter relating to prohibition by the Commissioner of Police, Madras, of a procession connected with the Ellamman temple, Triplicane, along certain streets in that locality partly occupied by Mussalman subjects which had been a frequent cause of ill feeling between Hindus and Mahomedans of the locality. A settlement has now been effected through the endeavours of a committee and the parties concerned have entered into a compact as to the conduct of future processions, the Commissioner of Police being requested to see that the terms of compact are duly observed and that stones are fixed marking the points of the road at which processions should stop music before passing the mosque or the temple as the case may be.

INDIA'S WAR EFFORT.

DELHI'S SUPPORT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

DELHI, May 9.

A largely attended meeting was held here today, the Chief Commissioner presiding, when resolutions were passed supporting the recent Imperial War Conference proposals and appointing committees to help recruiting and war loan subscription. A contribution of over two lakhs was announced at the meeting with a promise of another lakh.

Full bench of the Chief Court, Lower Burma, recently set aside the decree of the Commissioner of Mandalay granting Mr. A. H. Town a divorce from his wife Mama Lat and ordered the petition of the husband for disolution of marriage to be dismissed. The petitioner has applied for a copy of the judgment of the full bench with a view to moving the High Court of Judicature in England on the ground that he being a military man Indian divorce Act had no jurisdiction in his case and that English Divorce Act was applicable.

Mandalay gave a rousing reception to some forty Burma sappers and miners under Major Bushell R.E., who returned to Mandalay on Wednesday after an absence of twenty months in Mesopotamia. The men were looking very fit and Subadar Bochan, recipient of the Distinguished Service Medal, was heartily congratulated. He gained his medal in the crossing of the Tigris in General Maude's advance on Bagdad. He comes of a fighting stock as his father was an officer in King Theebaw's army and he himself as a lad was in Sagaing fort when it surrendered to the British.

I do not regulate my fees by the amount of the patient's bank account, but maintain a fixed-scale of prices, charging all persons alike for similar work done in the same way. I make no claim to CHEAP DENTISTRY, for cheap Dentistry is expensive. If you purchase cheap Dentistry you not only WASTE your money, but your teeth probably receive serious injury, possibly resulting in the impairment of the whole physical system.

Years ago, I perceived the great evil of the inequality of Dental charges. The best dentists charged TOO MUCH, and the cheap Dentists charged TOO LITTLE. The former charged for professional, social prestige, the latter did not charge enough to pay for good materials and the time required for first class work.

To me a MIDDLE COURSE seemed the only fair one and I adopted it. I ask fees that permit a fair margin of profit for honest skilled service, but no fancy fees for style and social prestige.

You may consult me and get my estimate for your own case, which will not entail you any expense, a fully qualified medical man is always in attendance with Dr. Carr, for special treatment of Pyorrhea and other diseases of the Oral Cavity.

C. I. D. OFFICER SHOT DEAD

"ANARCHIST OUTRAGE AT BOGRA,"

(Associated Press.)
CALCUTTA, May 10.

Information reached Calcutta yesterday of an anarchist outrage at Bogra, the victim being an officer of the District Intelligence Branch-staff, named Haridas Moitra. It is stated that on instructions from the Intelligence Branch of the Bengal, C.I.D., the officer went to the house of a woman inquest of an absconding anarchist on Wednesday evening.

On reaching the house with a number of constables, the officer found a number of young men engaged in playing cards and no sooner had he entered the room in which they were seated, than one of the young men whipped out a revolver and fired at the officer, who fell dead shot through the heart.

The murderer fired more shots to frighten the constables and in the melee succeeded in escaping. So far as was known to the authorities in Calcutta at a late hour last night, one arrest has been made in connection with the crime.

DEFENCE OF INDIA ACT.

DETENUS SENTENCED FOR BREACH OF INTERNMENT RULES.

(Associated Press.)
CALCUTTA, May 10.

The Chittagong Special Commission yesterday delivered judgment in the third and last case against the detenus of Char Lawrence Settlement. In this case Ashutosh Roy and three other detenus were charged with violating rules under the Defence of India Act in staying away from their places of internment after nightfall. The defence was that they found difficulty in procuring food, so they all went to the house of another detenu to take their meals.

The Commissioners, in convicting the accused, remarked that there might be inconvenience or even hardship, but that would not justify the accused to break the rules. All the four accused were sentenced to four months' rigorous imprisonment each.

RUMOUR OF CONSCRIPTION.

CAUSES EXCITEMENT AMONG BENGAL MINERS.

(Associated Press.)
CALCUTTA, May 9.

The Indian Mining Federation in a statement issued to all its members says it learns "with the deepest concern" that an absolutely baseless rumour is afloat that it is proposed shortly to introduce conscription into India and also that operation of the measure will extend to miners working in coal fields. It seems that orders recently issued by the Chief Sanitary Officer for the registration of colliery labour are responsible to some extent for the canard. The Committee of the Federation have done well in taking steps by emphatic contradiction to counteract any possible ill-effects that the rumour might otherwise have had.

KARACHI FREIGHT REPORT.

(Associated Press.)
KARACHI, May 9.

During the week, chrome ore 150 shillings, saltpetre 180, hides 125, castorseed 175 and rapeseed 230, have been booked for ready shipment to the United Kingdom port, about four thousand tons in all.

With the approval of Secretary of State for India it has been decided that service in the Indian Defence Force shall count as qualifying service for volunteer officers' decoration and volunteer long service medal, but only in the case of those members who served in the Indian volunteer force prior to the formation of the Indian Defence Force. Service in the Indian Defence Force will not count as qualifying service for either of the above-mentioned decorations in the case of those who enrolled for the first time subsequent to the formation of the Indian Defence Force.

DON'T NEGLECT DYSPEPSIA.

A DANGEROUS POLICY LEADING TO UNTOLD MISERY LATER ON.

Untold misery invariably results from neglect of the early symptoms of indigestion and dyspepsia, and there is always the possibility that stomach ulceration or gastritis may develop. That is why it is so dangerous for those who experience pain after eating, with a flushed face, heartburn, etc., to wait and see if the symptoms will subside of their own accord or become worse. Be assured that they will certainly become worse unless you take steps to neutralise the acid which is the root cause of the trouble. To neutralise acid in the stomach, and so prevent food fermentation and unpleasantness after meals, is quite an easy matter. Simply get some pure bisurated magnesia from the chemist, and take half a teaspoonful in a little water immediately after meals. This plan is surely preferable to dosing the stomach with drugs or conning yourself to an unattractive diet of easily digested foods. It enables you to eat freely of the foods you fancy, for by taking the bisurated magnesia you keep the stomach quite free from acid and prevent all possibility of food fermentation. Food remains bland and sweet until perfectly digested, and consequently there is no pain. This plan is recommended by many specialists, and is worthy of a thorough trial by all, but to avoid confusion with the acetates, citrates, or oxides of magnesia, or equally unsuitable mixtures of bismuth and magnesia, readers should ask the chemist very distinctly for the bisurated, the only form prepared especially for stomach use.

THE LATEST ADVANCE IN OPTICAL SCIENCE.
THE NEW COLOURLESS
"CROOKES GLASS"

Produced from Scientific Research Made by
SIR WILLIAM CROOKES, F.R.S.

Prevents Sun-Glare and Eye-strain without diminishing the light or altering colour values.

It has been demonstrated by eminent scientists that the Eye-fatigue experienced in bright sunlight is not due to the actual amount of light but to the presence of certain rays termed the "ULTRA-VIOLET."—or "Actinic" rays which are invisible to the comparatively limited range of Human vision.

For years past various tinted glasses have been used to prevent these "ULTRA-VIOLET radiations from entering the eye.

These tinted glasses, however, have all more or less altered the colour of objects viewed through them.

The new CROOKES glass, diluted with metallic oxides which has been discovered by Sir William Crookes, F.R.S., is practically COLOURLESS and gives perfectly clear vision while protecting the sight from Tropical Sun-Glare.

For INDIGESTION
FLATULENCE, ACIDITY & BILIOUSNESS You

Indigestion, with the train of ills which almost invariably follows, such as flatulence, acidity, heartburn, headaches, biliousness, constipation, loss of tone or vigour, can be prevented or banished. The first step towards prevention or cure is to get the organs of digestion—stomach, liver, and bowels—working efficiently. Mother Seigel's Syrup is the recognised standard remedy for digestive ailments. Its value has been proved in thousands upon thousands of cases. This is because Mother Seigel's Syrup goes direct to the root of the trouble. It acts gently but effectively on the organs of digestion, strengthening and stimulating them to healthy activity. Thus it ensures the proper digestion of the food you eat, and the extraction and assimilation of the nourishment it contains. Good food well digested is the true source of all physical strength and well-being. Put Mother Seigel's Syrup to the test yourself.

SAROJINI NAIDU'S SPEECHES AND WRITINGS.

Mrs. Sarojini Naidu hardly needs any introduction to the reading public. Her three volumes of Poems have been received, as Mr. Edmund Gosse says, "in Europe with approval, and in India with acclamation."

This, however, is the first attempt to present a collection of Mrs. Naidu's Speeches and Writings. They deal with a variety of subjects covering a wide range of topics intimately connected with India's advancement.

GANDHI'S SPEECHES AND WRITINGS.

AUTHORISED, UP-TO-DATE, COMPREHENSIVE.

The publication includes Mr. Gandhi's speeches on the South African Indian Question delivered not only in South Africa but in England and India as well. It contains also his speeches in India since his return to this country and his numerous contributions and communications to the Press on several questions of the day. A unique feature of this Publication is the inclusion of translations of some of his Gujarati speeches and writings and his luminous account of the Passive Resistance Movement and of his jail experiences in South Africa on the three occasions when he had to suffer imprisonment. The book is profusely illustrated with portraits of Mr. and Mrs. Gandhi and their fellow-workers and four interesting cartoons illustrative of different phases of the South African struggle.

FOR PRINCES AND RICH MEN ONLY.
THE Royal Yakuti.
(ANANG VILAS).
This Yakuti or life-giving nectar has been prepared from the best, choicest and richest vegetable drugs. It has a wonderful property of increasing the nerve power and is a specific for diseases. This valuable medicine is used in large quantities among Rajas, Maharajas, and many of our esteemed customers. But we have ventured to give it publication simply with a view to place it before the general public owing to the demand of several friends. It is needless to expatiate upon the magical qualities of our invaluable medicine. We would not like to blow the trumpet as is the fashion of the day, but suffice it to say that the use of this medicine is recommended to those who have any faith in the efficacy of Ayurvedic and Unani medicines. We recommend it also to those persons who desire to tone up the nervous system, to strengthen the body, refresh the memory and to guard against debility. It works like a charm and the effect is lasting. It restores strength and it is enough to say that musk is not that which a perfumer admires, it is that which diffuses fragrance of its own accord. Price per tin containing 40 pills, Rupees Ten only. Postage extra. No PARHEZ necessary.
